#VisionXLive Art Conference offers opportunities for aspiring artists to network, learn, and gain access to top global artists

PROVO, Utah — In the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic, artists are searching for ways to connect, learn, and be inspired. Vision X Live is a three-day virtual art conference that brings the world's top artists together to share their vision of the future through a series of live keynote presentations, panel discussions, Q&As, demos, work-along sessions, and more.

The event team at Vision X Live hand-picked the keynote speakers and exhibitors from a wide range of artistic styles, including both traditional and digital, to appeal to a variety of art enthusiasts.

"You will come away inspired and motivated to take your work and career to the next level," says Keith Huang, CEO of Sentient Academy and Event founder. "There is something for everyone."

This July 16–18th, Vision X Live will hold a virtual conference. Attendance at the first conference is expected to exceed 5,000 participants. However, the event is leveraging the participating artists' 5 million+ social following to draw maximum exposure. It is free for the public to browse the exhibitor and sponsor virtual booths with two upgraded paid options, a Pro Pass and a VIP Pass, to enjoy the live streaming events. Tickets can be reserved here.

Bryan Mark Taylor, professional artist and cofounder of Vision X Live, also says, "If there is any event you are considering this year, it should be this one. There will be more opportunities to learn and do, not just watch, than any other virtual art conference out there."

Some of the artists featured at the Vision X Live Event will include Jeff Hein, John Harris, Dylan Cole, Scott Christensen and Stan Prokopenko, to name a few. It is designed for emerging artists and experienced professionals. The main goal of the event is to show artists how they can sharpen their skills and grow rewarding creative careers as professional artists.

The #VisionXLive Art Conference will be held virtually. For more information visit the website at visionxlive.com.
